WE NOMINATE

Milton Lyon, 37-year old Pittsburgh-born master of the art (or science) of theatrics, who has accepted the challenging assignment of transforming 32-year old McCarter Theatre, once described as the "white elephant of all playhouses in the East", into a center of the performing arts for all of Princeton. In the year ahead, with the enthusiastic support of a specially appointed and drama-minded University Committee, Lyon and his associates will be given an opportunity to carry forward a program which could well create a precedent for the development of community theatres in this country.

Last week's public announcement of a nine-week McCarter fall program in 1960, the core of which will be six successive split-week presentations of world-famous comedies, culminated some two years of planning in which Lyon, professional director of the Princeton Triangle Club since 1955, played a strong supporting role. Largely upon his calculations rests the hope that McCarter can support a resident professional company, the first such university-sustained organization in this country; can integrate professional and local programming; and can succeed in staging, on a cyclical basis, a living anthology of world drama.

Well aware that the theatre in America constitutes a "completely unpredictable gamble", and concerned with wedding a hard-headed university to the illusions often purposely created by the theatre, Lyon brings to his new duties—Executive Director of McCarter as well as University Lecturer in Theatre Arts—a noteworthy degree of versatility. In the past two decades, starting with his high school years in Pittsburgh, he has been an actor, night-club entertainer, musical director in various parts of the country, manager, vocal coach, producer, arranger, piano soloist and stage director.

Lyon, whose early predilections for the drama were thwarted by a stuttering handicap that was corrected in his late teens by a skilled voice teacher, received his bachelor's degree in fine arts at the Carnegie Institute at age 20. A year later he was vocal director at the late-lamented Roxy Theatre, New York City, and was also manager of the Woodstock (N.Y.) Playhouse. A student of Princeton composer Roger Sessions, (when Sessions was at the University of California) and an Army Air Force veteran of World War II, Lyon started moving onward and upward in the middle 1940's.

Vocal preceptor for such luminaries as Barbara Cook, Gretchen Wyler, Geraldine Fitzgerald and Anthony Perkins, Lyon wrote music for the Equity Library Theatre and produced and "packaged" musicals. Among his assignments were the Sacramento (Calif.) Music Tent and the Flint and Detroit (Mich.) Music Circuses. He also found time for directing a series of major television spectacles and for undertaking supper club appearances in the New York-Palm Beach-Cleveland-Adirondack rectangle. It is significant that his 1960 Triangle Club production, "Breakfast in Bedlam," will tour Europe in July and August under the auspices of the Department of the Army.

For sensing the potential impact of the exploratory program recently announced by McCarter Theatre; for believing implicitly that here is an opportunity to strengthen the conception of the American community theatre; for looking to Princeton's future; he is Town Topics' nominee for

QUESTION ANSWERED
 Township Population Doubles. For the better part of the past decade, Princeton Township has felt the impact of a constant real estate boom, has seen many a new street added to its tax map and watched its school facilities increased on frequent occasion to care for the steady influx of new pupils. How big, the question was often asked, will the Township be when the census-taker returns in 1960?
 This week, a preliminary answer was ready. On the basis of statistics that are now nearing completion, Princeton census director Harmon E. Hubble told Town Topics that the Township's 1950 population of 5,407 has more than doubled. Just how much more will not be officially known until the figures are tallied next month, but it is apparent that the municipality's population might top 12,000.

Chances are that it will not yet equal the Borough figure, which was 12,230 in 1950 and will, of course, also be higher when the new tally is announced. The Borough, however, has reached a population density that can increase markedly only as new apartment buildings are added to the scene, or new dormitories are built by the University, Seminary and Choir College. Only about three dozen vacant lots exist in the municipality for new residential dwellings.

 Mr. Hubble reported two-thirds of the Princeton census has been completed, and that his crew of 22 enumerators hopes to finish the first stage of the project by next week. Work on the second stage, which involves the more detailed "blue questionnaire" left at every fourth home, will not begin until after the first stage is completed. That aspect of the house-to-house canvassing is expected to take longer.

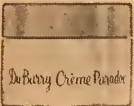

The census director (himself a resident of 175 Nassau Street) credited the increase in Borough residents partly to new construction and partly to the conversion of former single-family dwellings into apartments or two-family houses. The resident population of Princeton University, Westminster Choir College, Princeton Theological Seminary, which are included in the census, also helps to boost the Borough total.
 "Taking the census turned out to be a much bigger job than we anticipated," Mr. Hubble said. "The enumerators have had a lot of trouble finding people at home, which has made extra work in callbacks. In addition, some people are away and can't be reached at all."

He said that while most people were cooperative, several problems had developed with residents who resented what they felt were "personal" questions. "They don't realize that this is a completely impersonal business," Mr. Hubble said. "Every family is just a statistic to the census, and all the data is fed into machines." Princeton is progressing at about the same pace as the rest of the country, where the census is about 80 percent complete. The expected population jump also tallies with that predicted for Mercer County as a whole. The overall county population is estimated at about 200,000 this year, an increase of more than 70,000 over the 1950 figure of 229,751.

STEVENSON FOR PRESIDENT
 According to Princetonians, Although the write-in vote for president was naturally small, it's Adlai Stevenson by landslide proportions over all other 1960 hopefuls. So said Princeton voters in Tuesday's primary election.
 The two-time Democratic candidate received a combined total of 59 votes in the Borough and Township, while another candidate whose hat is not yet in the ring was runner-up. Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York, a darkhorse Republican who might yet be drafted, drew 15.

In third place was the man off and running earliest of all: Vice-President Richard Nixon, with 12. Other votes: Senators John Kennedy, 5; Hubert Humphrey, 2; Stuart Symington and Barry Goldwater, 1 apiece.

PERSONALITIES

Joseph K. Hoff, now living in
"Merwick," who retired this week
as chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank, thus ending 47 years of association with the institution at which he helped found in 1893. At age 77, Mr. Hoff acted as teller to accept the first deposit, eventually served the bank in virtually every capacity. Named a director to succeed him was Glenn E. Eschbach, executive vice-president of the Princeton Fuel Oil Co., a member of the Rotary Club of Princeton and a resident of Pennington.

Dr. A. Dale Converse, New Carson Road, who told a Congressional investigating committee that the drug industry is profiting at the public's expense, urged the enactment of restrictive legislation to curb research efforts
"which are not really worthwhile but are pursued simply because there's profit in it." A one-time director for Squibb Laboratories,
Dr. Converse created what may become a minor classic in the field with the charge that the drug industry's attitude toward the public is based on the maxim:
"If you can't convince them, confuse them."

RIGHT WING CLIPPED

As Case Defeats Morris, The invitation of Robert Morris and his supporters to turn the Republican party in New Jersey far to the right was flatly rejected by the voters in Tuesday's primary election. By a margin upwards of 3 to 2, Senator Clifford Case, a self-avowed "liberal" in the G.O.P. ranks, was re-nominated as his party's candidate in November. Princeton gave generous support to the incumbent, handing him every one of the eight borough and nine township districts. He pulled 719 votes to 193 for Mr. Morris in the Borough, while the Township backed him, 842 to 224.

Princetonian Thom Lord was a landslide (16-1) victor over a little-known northern New Jersey candidate, Leigh Glassner of East Orange. The upcoming battle between Mr. Lord and Senator Case is expected to be one of the most interesting New Jersey has seen in many years.

Twenty-seven percent of the registered voters in Princeton went to the polls on Tuesday—a figure better than double the normal turnout for a primary election with few races. The figure applied evenly to both Princeton municipalities.

Complimentary totals compiled in uncontested races here were:

In common with the rest of Mercer County and elsewhere in the state, voting machines occasionally broke down because of the large number of delegates' names on the ballot. Officials explained that the number of levers which had to be swung back into place electrically after the vote had been cast were sometimes more than the power could handle. There was speculation that New Jersey may follow the lead of other states and remove the names of delegates to presidential conventions from the ballot.

SNEAK THIEF CAUGHT

Princeton Man Confesses, Turner A. Stephens, 27, of 37 Leigh Avenue was arrested Wednesday night, charged with four counts of breaking, entering and larceny, and held for the grand jury to await indictment. Township police said Stephens confessed to the crimes, which have plagued homeowners in Princeton Township for many months.

He was apprehended in Lawrence Township shortly after 11 p.m. as he drove from Princeton to Trenton in a borrowed car with items he reportedly had taken from the home of Miss Elizabeth Howe, 31 Westcley Road, early in the evening.

Township Detective Fred Porter, acting on information he received about two hours after the robbery, caught up with Stephens on the road to Trenton, arrested him and found in the car a diamond stole, mink coat and diamond wristwatch belonging to Miss Howe. Total value of the stolen goods was estimated at $3,500.

Stephens was on parole from a workhouse sentence and because he violated parole, was held without bail in Mercer County Jail. The owner of the car he borrowed was not involved in the robberies.

In addition to Miss Howe, four other Township residents were victims of Stephens' activities. He has admitted breaking, entering and theft at the home of Dr. James Hillier, Autumn Lane, and the home of Wheaton Lane, 85 Winant Road, where he stole articles belonging to Mr. Lane and to his housekeeper, Martella Kauffman.

Jewelry belonging to Miss Kauffman has been recovered from a catch-basin diagonally across the street from Stephens' home, where he threw it because he thought it had no value. A camera belonging to Dr. Hillier was also recovered by Township police.

Stephens is also charged with breaking into the home of James S. Nicholls, Princeton Pike, but he was frightened away before he could take any of the Nicholls' property.

The crimes to which Stephens has confessed go back to January 9 when he made the attempt on the Nicholls house. Since Christmas, Township police under Chief James B. Campbell Jr., have had an extra car on patrol for three to five hours each evening, manned by two Township patrolmen on their own time.

FUND HEAD NAMED

To succeed Walter Scott, William E. Coley of Danvers, Mass., has been named executive director of the Princeton United Community Fund, according to an announcement made this week by Fred Blaicher, Fund president. Mr. Coley succeeds Walter H. Scott, who retired early this year. The new appointment will take effect May 1. (Picture, page 1.)

Mr. Coley has been executive director of the United Community Fund of Salem, Marblehead and Danvers for the past 15 years. He organized the Salem Community Council in 1946 and was its president in 1948 and 1949.

The new director has been president of the Rotary Club of Salem and an active member of the Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he has served on various athletic boards and was president of the Salem City Softball League, chairman of the Salem YMCA Athletic Committee and president of the Danvers Twilight Baseball League.

He has worked with Red Cross, youth organizations and many social agencies within the tri-city area of Salem, Marblehead and Danvers. He was supervisor of recreation in Springfield, Massachusetts for two years and served as assistant Scout executive there.

A native of Birmingham, England, Mr. Coley celebrated his 46th birthday this year. He was graduated from Springfield (Massachusetts) College in 1938 and did graduate work there until 1942. He holds a master of education degree from State Teachers College, Salem.

SIDEWALKS? NOT FOR ME!

Committee Amends Ordinance. The burning question of sidewalks in Princeton Township was hanked, temporarily Monday night when Township committee amended a sidewalk-street widening ordinance so that all mention of sidewalks was entirely deleted.

As a result, both sides of Abernathy, the south side of Broad-ripple and the east side of Magnolia between Broadripple and the Littlebrook school property, will go unpaved for the time being. "Probably until next year," said Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, gloomily.

The deleting amendment was offered by Committee member John Mount, who emphasized his belief that the streets mentioned above did indeed require sidewalks, but that a more urgent need was for a map indicating clearly just what sidewalks would be laid each year between 1960 and 1965. He suggested a public hearing for such a map, and a single "package" ordinance each year for all the sidewalks to be laid in that year.

"But I don't mean to give any aid or comfort to residents of those streets who don't want sidewalks," Mr. Mount warned.

Spring Song

The daffodil
Replaces now
The frost-bit nose
And undusted brow.

—HY TYME

This "yellow-flower-for-blue-nose" theme actually is a daily story, what with the thermometer dipping into the 30s at night before soaring upward again during the sunshine hours. Early risers on Wednesday, for example, saw plenty of white frost on the green grass.

All this pleasant atmosphere may be with us for a few more days, the Man believes. Generally clear weather and warm breezes are a feature of the forecast throughout the week-end.

"Master Plan" Backed. Oliver Guyas, 73 Magnolia Lane, endorsed Mr. Mount's suggestion for a sidewalk "master plan" and presented a plan of his own in which he asked the Planning Board to make a comprehensive study of sidewalks.

He said he felt that the Johnson Park school area, Rosedale Road, the Princeton-Kingston Road, Snowden Lane, Jefferson Road, Mt. Lucas, lower Wither-sporn, Shady Brook, Wren and parts of Olden Lane needed sidewalks quite as much as the streets deleted by the ordinance amendment. Committee member Thomas P. Cook agreed.

Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman then explained once again the Township's frequently mentioned plan to construct sidewalks in half-mile radii from all schools. "We are building sidewalks piece-meal because of expense," he said. "We're doing it 'Pay-as-you-go'."

Following passage of the amendment, there was extensive discussion from the floor about various kinds of sidewalks, particularly about the merits of concrete versus blacktop. The possibility of green or black concrete was mentioned and the Valley Road sidewalks were once again brought up for criticism and comment.

Mr. Guyas suggested that the Township subsidize snow-shoveling on all sidewalks in the municipality. He has 225 feet of front footage.

"It isn't solely a question of traffic," Mayor Fairman said, after several residents had compared notes on the number of children who use the street. "Whether it's one child or 200 doesn't really matter: that one child should be on a sidewalk. We're all doing our best in all aspects of the Township's physical growth, and maybe, through no fault of anyone's, this sidewalk thing wasn't thought through."

Library Referendum Planned. Committee also passed an ordinance approving an agreement with the Borough to establish a joint public library, subject to public referendum in November.

News Of The THEATRES

SINGERS WITH BERMAN

In Joint Appearance, "The Gateway Singers," a group of four musicians who sing folk songs with the drive and beat of modern jazz, will appear on the McCarter stage with Shelley Berman when the monologist comes to Princeton this Friday. He and the Singers will give two performances, one at 7 and one at 9:20. Discovered at the "Hungry 11" in San Francisco several seasons ago, the Gateway group has made many night-club and concert appearances in recent months. The Singers include Emerlie Thomas, contralto; Jerry Walter, who plays a five-string banjo; Adam Fredericks, on bass and Marc Richards, guitarist. The Gateway Singers perform for 15 minutes at the beginning of each half of Shelley Berman's program before the monologist appears. Mr. Berman will draw on his two record albums for his McCarter appearance and he will also present some new material.

ARTIST DESIGNED SETS

For "Clerambard," Schilli Maier, artist and teacher of artists, has designed the black and white sets for "Clerambard," described by some critics as a black-and-white story. (That is, the story of a man who's either all good, or all bad.) "Clerambard" will be given Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theater. Mr. Maier has designed sets which are black line drawings on white panels. He has explained that the satiric yet simple story by Count Clerambard "made me get the most out of the least... I had to keep everything simple, yet attractive."

Tickets for the performance of "Clerambard" may be reserved by writing Box 526, Princeton, or calling WA 1-8700.

GREENE PLAY CHOSEN

By Players, Graham Green's

"The Living Room" has been chosen by Princeton Community Players as their final play of the season. It will be given on June 3 and 4 and again from June 7 to 11, which is Reunion Weekend. Robert Wren, who directed the recent Players' production of "Evynation," will serve as director for "The Living Room."

HERE'S PINAFORE CAST

Savoyard Production Company, Lee Bristol, Jr., will head the cast of "H.M.S. Pinafore." The Gilbert and Sullivan opera to be given in McCarter Theater April 29, 30 and May 7. Mr. Bristol will play "the monarch of the sea, the ruler of the Queen's Navy." He also had the lead in last year's production of "Iolanthe."

Mr. Bristol is director of public relations for Bristol-Meyers Products, a trustee of Westminster Choir College and the Berkley Divinity School and vice-chairman of layman's work in the Second Province of the Episcopal Church. He is also vice-president and trustee of the Creative Education Foundation.

A composer and author, Mr. Bristol has written many anthems and other musical compositions, and has published several books including "A Seed for a Song" and the forthcoming "Developing the Corporate Image," which he edited.

Other cast members are Dr. Warren Dodson, "Captain Corcoran," former member of the Village Light Opera Group, New York, where he sang in "Iolanthe," Marianne White, "Buttercup," former choir director and singer who has done "Buttercup" previously; and Sheldon Simon ("Ralph Rackett"), another veteran of last year's "Iolanthe." Mr. Simon will be featured tenor this summer for the Imperial Players, Cripple Creek, Colorado.

College and Frank Fullerton, who will be seen as Dick Deadey, is a junior at Princeton.

MODERN TECHNIQUES USED

In "Anxiety," The latest techniques developed for use in the contemporary theater have been incorporated into the Theatre In-time production of W. H. Auden's poem, "Age of Anxiety" which will open in Murray Theater next Thursday. The production, directed by John Becker, will be given next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 28-30, and again from Monday, May 2, through Saturday, May 7.

In one of the television sequences, Mr. Auden himself will appear, along with Sean O'Connell and Jimmy Durante. The trio will portray a group of panelists in the contemporary television tradition. (A fourth member of the "panel" may be Aldous Huxley, if arrangements can be made to get him on film.)

Completing the television sequences will be an original Western, a thriller on the Frankenstein model and a sponsor. In these sequences will be three Princeton actors: Miss Ella Felham, Mrs. Donald C. Stuart, Jr., and Peter Cook, Jr.

To round out the picture of the Third Avenue bar, there will be a juke box. Coming from the box will be the phone playing of John Hubbell, class of 1960, and the modern jazz of Norm Symonds, written especially for this production.

COMMITTEES NAMED

For Ballet Production, The Princeton Ballet Society's production of "Coppelia" and "Boite a Joujou", to be given in McCarter Theater May 12 and 13, will be directed by Audree Estey, director of the Society. L. W. Estey will serve as production manager and Mrs. Nora Greenblatt will be musical director.

Mrs. M. H. Meiner is chairman of the costume committee consisting of Mrs. Albert Toio, Mrs. H. F. Celotie, Mrs. B. J. Scarsere and Mrs. Leigh Harris. Mrs. George Bush is in charge of properties and Mrs. William Bonifron and Mrs. Joseph W. Donner are co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

Mrs. George Webster and Mrs. Thomas James are co-chairmen of patrons. Mrs. Frank Taplin and Mrs. Ferdinand Schoettie are in charge of publishing the program with the assistance of a committee composed of Mrs. Richard Hart, Mrs. Eric Enderby, Mrs. William A. ## IT'S NEW To Us

SPRING IN BLOOM

At Garden Market, The "bloom" is for the future, but the promise is right now when you buy spring perennials from Rosedale Garden Market, on Alexander Street. (The work is right now, too; might as well call a spade a spade.)

Hardy phlox in all colors—the standard summer kind, not the creeping ground phlox of spring-day lilacs in all sizes and colors, ready to bloom in May, with white arabis for a border or alyssum in white or purple. Most of these are 75 cents a plant.

For summer savoring, try a herb garden. Rosedale has four kinds of thyme, including creeping thyme, and fragrant bouquets of English lavender.

Hybrid rhododendron, in full, plump bud, are $6.50 to $15, depending on size, and there are all sizes as well as all available colors. A magnolia grandiflora is $18.

We rather like the idea of something exotic like the Nandina domestica, a bamboo tree of all things, with red berries just in full. Seems to thrive in New Jersey, and grows to a seven-foot bush.

Another unusual plant is Rosedale's hardy little orange tree. It sprouts decorative, but not edible fruit, and is decorative itself in the garden year round because of its curious all-green appearance and its inch-long thorns.

Named varieties of English Holly are available, in berries, at the moment. You buy two of these, as you know, Chinese holly, on the other hand, is self-pollinating, so you save space and money.

An unusual Decodora cedar is part of Rosedale's nursery this spring, and its silvery blue feathery branches may be just the accent for your particular landscape. We'll take bamboo.

Combos, Bellows combines everything this spring. The shop at Nassau and Moore has a rack of three-piece ensembles which will fill any space in your wardrobe, from cotton to silk. A silk plaid skirt in tiny sage-green checks

What, No Cream?

Instead of morning glories this spring, why not plant strawberries? Rosedale has some new climbing ones that will ascend, without oxygen, to about six feet or so if you give them a trellis, fence, or wall to climb on.

They cost $2.50 per plant, but they will bear from spring until frost this year which is quite a remarkable variation from the usual balky strawberry.

If you have neither trellis, fence or wall, you can plant them in a big jar with a stick for them to climb on. They need full sun and somebody who's willing to pick and eat.

has a sleeveless top with notched collar and an arlon sweater trimmed with the green silk.

Half-inch checks of cotton and arnel line up for a sleeveless shirt and skirt, and later provide the trim for a white arlon sweater. These various ensembles range in price from $17.95 to $35.

McMullen and Hiram Walker set down for lunch one day, and if you think that's an unlikely combination, you'll change your mind when you see the cordials served up after lunch.

There's a quartet of gently flaring linen skirts, cut simply and sewn well. One is green, one, one purple and one apricot-orange. Sounds simple, but you don't know Hiram. Actually, they are named for the colors of H. W. cordials, and instead of the shades mentioned above, the skirts are actually creme de menthe, creme de cacao, black raspberry and apricot.

On top of these you wear sleeveless, McMullen collared blouses in white with a print of—guess what! Green mint leaves, sprigged up coffee beans and black raspberries. With a sash to match, extra. Forget the promotional nonsense and look at the clothes themselves: superb colors, expert workmanship and classic style.

Trefoilers may wear a wrap skirt of calico and print. The black and white calico is on one side, the trumpet-vine print on the other, and there are blouses to match either side. Not only that, Bellows has a patch-work skirt which incorporates those same two prints in a couple of the patches, so you can wear either blouse with the patch-work skirt.

Something else new on the skirt rack: a sharply pleated skirt of arnel and cotton with thick upholstery's fringe down the fold. Comes in Welsh green (olive—or should we say "leek"?), bark brown or a brown Glen plaid.

A wrap-around skirt of tarpon cloth comes in a good forefront green, paprika red, grey or brown and there are Bermudas to match. In fact, prints and solids team up to such an extent this spring that the purchase of a pair of shorts and a shirt starts an endless chain reaction. (We think you'll be especially fond of the peony pink Bermudas with the matching print blouse.)

MARK TWAIN COMING BACK

In Repeat Performance, Dana Attractions will bring Mark Twain back to Princeton on Friday, May 20, when Hal Holbrook comes to McCarter for a return engagement of "Mark Twain Tonight!" He was last here in November.

Since that time, Mr. Holbrook has taken Sam Clemens to Spudi Arabia for the employees of the Arabian-American Oil Company. Next fall, he will fill an engagement at the Edinburgh Festival.

"FATHER BROWN" COMING TO McCarter This Thursday, The 1964 film, "Father Brown," will be shown this Thursday at 8 in McCarter Theatre, under the auspices of the Classics Film Club.

Alec Guinness is starred in the title role. "The delightful Alec Guinness at his best" was the verdict of Anthony Evnin of the London Times.

THE PLAYHOUSE

"Home From the Hill" (April 20-26): Hollywood, that glittering but naive un-world, exists by simplification. The film with the most extras equals The Best Picture of the Year, Courtroom sequences, all courtroom sequences, are entertaining. There's no business like show business. Adult means sexual.

Tiros Film Scheduled

The new Tiros weather satellite will make its film debut this Saturday at the Playhouse. A motion picture describing the satellite will be shown at 10:30, 11 and 11:30 a.m. There will be no charge for admission.

The 15-minute color film includes animated sequences which show the function of Tiros in space, and scenes that show engineers designing and building the satellite at the RCA Space Center on the Princeton - Hightstown Road. The actual launching at Cape Canaveral is included.

Tiros is the first of several experimental satellites to be built by RCA for use in a continuing program to study the role of satellites as weather forecasters.

It is to the latter tautology that we will direct this week's quibbling. On the whole, it is undoubtedly a good thing that the movies have broken free of the necessity to produce repetitive schoolgirl fantasies about half-men and genderless women who live happily ever after. Straightforward treatment of relationships involving sex can be meaningful and necessary; without it, we would not have had "Room at the Top," and that would have been a tremendous loss. But the movie makers are dishonest when they expect us to believe that the increasing number of clinical, key-hole-peeking films are anything but sensational trash. Childish dime novel pictures do not become less childish because they include an abortion or an impotent husband.

"Home From the Hill" includes an unfaithful husband (Robert Mitchum), an unresponsive wife (Eleanor Parker), an illegitimate son (George Peppard) and a teenage pregnancy (Luana Patten, by George Hamilton). Everett Sloane, Miss Patten's father, and Miss Parker give good performances, but the screenplay, adapted from William Humphrey's novel, has little to do with human emotions or logical development. Sol C. Siegel produced the film in CinemaScope and color.

Once More, With Feeling (April 27-30) is valuable chiefly because it provides a last glimpse of the terrifically talented Kay Kendall, who was ill during the filming and died of leukemia soon after it was completed. Not pleasant thoughts, these, to have in mind when approaching a romantic comedy, but they inevitably intrude. Miss Kendall was the rarest of theatrical commodities, a beautiful clown, and her intelligence, wit and charm shone through every picture she made. It will be a long while before an other comedienne of her stature appears, and this is reason enough to see "Once More, With Feeling."

As a motion picture, however, this slight story about a temperamental conductor (Yul Brynner), his Russo-Yiddish manager (Gregory Ratoff) and his marital difficulties with Miss Kendall is pretty weak. Brynner may have learned by this time that he is not a comic actor except unintentionally, as in "Solomon and Sheba." He substitutes energy for nerve and when he occasionally gets off a good line, he grins secretly as if he had accidentally stumbled on the quantum theory. Ratoff also tries hard, but his job is made difficult by a script based on the assumption that phrases like "Let all my clients go to Sol Hurok if I'm not telling you the truth" are screamingly dull.

But through it all, Miss Kendall is fresh and funny, and you may find, as we did, that after a couple of days all you can remember about the picture with any precision are some of her gestures and phrases. The film is in Technicolor. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

Ivan the Terrible (April 18-23) is a thundering and beautiful green achievement, produced in Russia by Sergei Eisenstein with Nikolai Cherkozov in the title role. Before his death in 1948, Eisenstein had planned a great cycle of related films on Ivan's bloody career, but only Parts I and II, which take three hours in this combined program, were completed. Part I won the 1947 Stalin Prize, but Part II went too far in the analogies it drew between Ivan and Stalin, and Eisenstein was reprimanded. Part II was not released until last year.

The first part details the foundation of Ivan's royal power and personal happiness, and shows him winning popular support in his gaudy, lecherous and egotistical bies. In Part II, the nobles attempt to dethrone the ruler, but he triumphs by staging a monumental purge. This is clearly parallel to Stalin's great purge of the 30's, and Ivan emerges from it as a paranoid and dangerous man.

Eisenstein conceived of the Ivan cycle as a colossal symphony for the screen, and darkness is the theme. The entire second part was filmed at night in a howling, eerie and there is a grotesque, nightmarish quality about it. The acting is brutal, in keeping with the scope of events, but only rarely does it become stagey and artificial.

At its best, the film catches something of the prophetic horror and beauty of the great Russian novels. The score is by Prokofiev. Recommended.

Anastasia (April 25), a 1956 release in CinemaScope and color, historically interesting in that it provided Ingrid Bergman with her first role in an American film after her Italian idyll, which older readers will recall. The other featured players are Yul Brynner and Helen Hayes, and the adaptation of the Marcelle Maurelle play was written by Guy Bolton.

Miss Bergman is Anastasia, the unacknowledged heiress of the Russian Imperial Family who has ten million pounds waiting for her in a London bank if she can only prove her identity. Brynner is a Russian general who pushes her case with the Dowager Empress (Miss Hayes), and who secretly plans to fleece her of the inheritance. It looks for a while as if Miss Bergman is in serious trouble, but things improve after Miss

"MME. DE LERE" will appear on McCarter's stage Saturday in "Clerambard," by Marcel Aymé. The play, in English, will be presented by the Philadelphia Drama Guild.

Hayes acknowledges her in nicely if too weepily done confrontation and Brynner falls in love with her.

Miss Bergman and Miss Hayes are, as usual, excellent, and Brynner, despite his shortcomings in light comedy, is always at his best as a Russian nobleman. The faults of the picture are inherent in the story itself, which is melodramatic, but the big production is impressive. Anatole Litvak directed.

The Wind Cannot Read (April 26-30) hinges on a piece of nature symbolism which would make even D. H. Lawrence wince. At a Burmese jungle outpost, war-torn and asking, a British sergeant posts a sign asking the soldiers not to pick the flowers in a tiny garden. Later, because it is illiterate, the wind uproots the blooms and carries them off into space. Nature, you see, is irrational and uncontrollable, and it's a hard row we mortals have to hoe.

The stars are Dirk Bogarde, the talented British actor, Yoko Tani and Ronald Lewis. Lewis is a soldier, and Miss Tani meet and fall in love at an army school in India where she is an instructor. Despite racial barriers, they marry and are blissfully happy until he is captured and tortured. Receiving word that his wife is ill, Bogarde escapes and rushes to her bedside just in time for a melodramatic death scene. woman so good and true should not have died, Bogarde protests, but he has forgotten that the wind cannot read. The film, which is in color, undeniably provides a primer in parallel-hunting which should be invaluable to literary critics and geometry teachers.

According to the proposal, the cost of maintaining the library would be apportioned between Borough and Township on the basis of the number of residents who use the library, and the income would be apportioned in similar fashion.

Capital appropriations of less than $5,000 would also be divided in this manner, and those over $5,000 would be subject to approval by both Borough Council and Township Committee. The entire library budget each year would also have to be approved by both governing bodies.

The library would be run by a Board of Trustees composed of both mayors, both superintendents of schools and three citizens from each municipality. A public hearing on the proposal will be held in Township Hall on May 2.

In other business, Committee member Hans K. Sander to the Planning Board to fill the unexpected one-year term of Calvin Schofield. The term expires December 31, 1967. . . took under advisement a request by the Hope Valley Charter Bus Service to run a route from Lambertville to the Princeton Shopping Center, entering Princeton on Route 206 from Route 518, and proceeding to the Shopping Center via Exeter and Harrison. . . told Trinity Church to take its request for a cemetery for the All Saints Chapel site to the Zoning Board. . . referred to Township police the request of Ridgeview Road residents to reduce the speed limit on that street from 50 to 30 miles per hour. . . passed the Laurel Road-Mr. Lucas and one North Harrison sewer assessments and announced public hearings for May 16 on the Prospect Avenue sewer assessments and a second Harrison Street North assessment.

DR. PAULING TO SPEAK

On Nuclear War. "No More War" is the topic chosen by Dr. Linus Pauling for his talk Monday at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Princeton Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. He will speak in McCosh 50.

Dr. Pauling will discuss the effects of fallout and the hydrogen bomb, and the prospects for a permanent end to war. In 1957, Dr. Pauling sponsored a petition to the United Nations urging an international agreement to stop nuclear bomb testing. Over 11,000 scientists from all over the world joined him in the petition and Dr. Albert Schweitzer commented, "By his efforts to prevent nuclear war and to bring the powerful forces of nuclear energy under international control, Linus Pauling is rendering a great service to humanity."

Recipient of the Nobel Prize in chemistry in 1954, Dr. Pauling has also received the Royal Society's Davy Award and the Presidential Medal for outstanding services to the United States.

TO GIVE FINAL AUDIT

On Civil Rights. The final installment of the Community Audit of Princeton, prepared by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, will be presented next Thursday at 8:15 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. The public is invited to attend. The final audit will consider Princeton public schools and the administration of justice. In preparing the report, members of the committee asked principals and superintendents such questions as "How integrated are our public schools?" "What are some of the human relations problems in our schools?"

Members of the justice committee attended many sessions of Borough and Township courts in order to gather information on the treatment of minority-group offenders and the number of minority offenders in approximately 200 cases. This report will also include the returns from a questionnaire mailed to Princeton lawyers.

Mrs. Paul Schleyer served as chairman of the subcommittee on education and Mrs. Frederick R. Kling as chairman of the group studying the administration of justice. Previous reports in the audit series have concerned employment and public accommodations, church membership, participation in United Fund agencies and so on.

TIRE, MONEY STOLEN

In Three Acts of Theft, Mrs. Donald Mackie of 9 Bayard Lane reported to Borough police that a tire, wheel rim and hub cap were stolen from her car parked in its garage. Police estimated the value of the stolen property at $120.

Dr. Mark H. Lund, police surgeon, told police that approximately $60 was taken from a cash drawer in his office in the Medical Arts Building, Princeton Hospital, Medina Pinto, an employee of the Ivy Club on Prospect Avenue, who lives in the year of the Club, notified police that $42 was missing from a wallet he had left in his trousers pocket.

ASK EXTENSION

Of Proposed Multiple Housing Zone: Two property-owners in Princeton Township asked the Planning Board on Wednesday night to consider extending the zones suggested for multiple housing by the Multiple Housing Subcommittee.

Others present at the open hearing suggested that additional areas be included if property owners so desired and neighbors approved. The hearing was a quiet one, suggesting the possibility that those who own land next to the proposed apartment zones are playing "wait and see."

Hugh D. Wise spoke for Mrs. Anita M. Hazek, proprietor of the Princeton Riding Club, who would like to have her three and one-half acre tract included in the multiple-housing zone. Mrs. Hazek's land is close to the proposed zoning line, which goes down Bayard Lane to Mountain Avenue and along Mountain for about 400 feet.

Princeton Enterprises' spokesman, Hallett Johnson, asked that the 35 acres of the Anderson property on Cherry Hill Road, he included and said he thought this particular tract would be suited to a more "elaborate" kind of garden apartment development which might be attractive to older couples.

Stuart E. Wallace of Modern Community Developers proposed that the multiple-housing zones be made flexible enough to allow single-family houses as well. He also advocated the inclusion of two-family houses which would, he said, be less expensive for middle-income families.

After the Planning Board has completed its study of the multiple housing report and made its recommendations, the question will be considered by Township Committee which will have to amend the zoning ordinance to provide for any multiple housing.

TO DISCUSS TAX

At Parent-Teachers Meeting, Dr. William Miller and B. questions about his voyage to Zanbar in an Arab dhow.

Admission to the lecture will be free, but members are asked to obtain an entrance ticket at the "Y." The meetings, designed to broaden the horizons of members living in the United States as well as helping the youth of foreign lands, are scheduled to be held every month.

TO ACCEPT APPLICATIONS
For Rocky Hill Nursery School. Applications for admission for the school year 1960-61 are now being accepted by the Rocky Hill Co-operative Nursery School. Next fall the school will begin its second year of operation under a plan of active participation by parents which allows high standards with a minimum of expense.

Classes are held in the Rocky Hill Public School Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 to 12 for three-year olds, and at the same time on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for the four and five-year-old group. The children enjoy a program of supervised free play, arts and crafts, games, music and refreshment.

Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled twice a year. Further information and application blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Clement Baldwin, Mrs. Richard Hoisington and Mrs. Charles Peterson.

BENEFIT FILM SCHEDULED

For Cherry Hill Nursery. A feature-length cartoon film of George Orwell's "Animal Farm" will be shown next Friday, April 29, at 8 p.m. in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road, as a benefit for the Cherry Hill Nursery School.

Tickets may be obtained by calling WA 1-4322 or WA 1-8504, or they may be purchased at the door on Friday. The audience is invited to remain after the film for refreshments.

REGISTRATION SET

For Borough Pre-Schoolers. Children who will enter the Borough kindergarten next fall have been asked to register at the Nassau Street school from 9 to 10:30 a.m. on May 4, 11 and 18.

Parents must bring birth certificates for the children and a proof of inoculation against diphtheria, smallpox and polio. The school consists that parents make an appointment for one of the above days by calling the nurse's office at WA 4-5660.

FLOWER SHOW PLANNED

By Dogwood Garden Club. "Salute to Spring" will be the theme of the May flower show of the Dogwood Garden Club to be held at the Olivary Baptist Church on Saturday, May 21, from 2 to 8. Eight classes of artistic arrangement, designed to carry out the theme, will be featured.

Education, commercial and sponsored exhibits by Scout and 4-H groups, and a special division for junior gardeners will be shown. The open horticultural division will center upon spring specimen flowers and shrubs. Show chairmen, Mrs. Wesley Owens and Mrs. Richard Young, announced that classes are open to all amateur exhibitors.

The planning committee includes Mrs. Philip Shays, staging; Mrs. Charles Whitney, schedule; Mrs. Louis Gerber, entries; Mrs. William Duryee III, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Johnson, education; Mrs. Willis Lebourveau, juniors; Mrs. J. G. Copeland, awards; Mrs. Harry Hey, judges; Mrs. R. W. Hoisington, hostesses; Mrs. Thurland Wilkinson, properties; Mrs. William Spicer, finance; Mr. Douglas Smith, classification; Mrs. Clinton Clement, passing; Mrs. Parker Hayden, Jr., dismantling; and Mrs. W. W. Marvel, placing.

PLAN POSTAL STATION

For Shopping Center. Authorization has been received from the Post Office Department which has enabled the Princeton Post Office to advertise and solicit competitive bids for a contract station to be established in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Further information and proper bid forms may be obtained from Postmaster C. F. Murray during the period from April 19 to May 2.

GLEE CLUB TO SING

To Benefit Negro College Fund. The Lincoln University Glee Club will give a concert next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Witherspoon Presbyterian Church for the benefit of the United Negro College Fund. Admission is free, and an offering will be taken. The concert is being given under the joint sponsorship of the United Negro College Fund and the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. David H. McAlpin, Jr., associate pastor of the church, is chairman of the Princeton Committee of the United Negro College Fund. Last year, members of the Princeton Committee raised $3,020 for the Fund.

MUSIC In Princeton

HAYES TO SING HERE
Sunday in Procter Hall, Marvin Hayes, internationally known young bass-baritone, will give his first recital in Princeton Sunday at 3:15 p.m. in Procter Hall of the Graduate College of Princeton University. The recital is being sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton and is open to the public free of charge.

Mr. Hayes, who received his bachelor of music degree from the University of Southern California, is the recipient of a Woolley Scholarship and a Fulbright Travel Grant and has had a year study in Paris with Pierre Bernac. He has just been asked to join the New York Pro Musica, which is being sent this summer by the State Department on a tour of France, England and Italy.

For his Princeton recital Mr. Hayes will sing "De Profundis" and "Si Inquietus" by Michel de La Lande; "An Evening Hymn" by Purcell; songs by Schubert, Fauré, Schoenberg Weizsack and Gileson, and son of the West Coast Canadian Indians. He will be accompanied at the piano by Jonathan Brice.

MATHEW GROUP TO MEET
Sunday at Miss Minot C. Morgan, Jr. Bruce McKinney, a Princeton University senior in the Department of Music, will direct the orchestra at a meeting of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs Sunday at 5:15 Miss Fine's School.

Soloists for the meeting will be Margery Holland, soprano; Jean Chorley, contralto; Robert Holland, tenor, and Fadon Shehadi, bass. Thomas James, a junior at the university, will be pianist. The program will be Haydn's "Nelson Mass."

The meeting is open to the public. Those wishing to make supper reservations should call Mrs. MacKenzie Bryan at WA 4-0453 between 2 and 5 p.m. on weekdays.

STUDENT WORKS FEATURED
In Concert This Friday. Conpositions by graduates featured in the Department of Music of Princeton University will be presented in a concert this Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Clie Hall Auditorium. This will be the first of two concerts planned for this Spring to present music by students of Roger Sessions.

FROM HERE TO MATERNITY

Fanned out along our delivery perimeter are a half dozen hospitals including those in Princeton, Trenton and Flemington.

Eleven years ago when the first Allen hospital arrangement was created, it became quite evident that flowers to cheer the sick would be a large part of the business. Today, hospital arrangements do indeed constitute a large part of our total sales volume. We attribute this to the special emphasis we have always placed on (a) fresh flowers (b) smart styling (c) prompt delivery.

Many people were first introduced to our work by flowers they received as patients in the hospital. Here, as in an after way, can our designs be compared with competitive offerings. Again, our arrangements continue to be our best advertisement.

Probably no other floral gift sent to a hospital means as much as flowers to a new mother. Her feeling for clever dainty little arrangements is most appreciated. When the need arises, call on Allen's — our designers will suggest the appropriate, attractively priced from $3.50. Delivered free.

The program will open with Henry Weinberg's "Three Songs," performed by Shirley Soderok, soprano, and Charles Grogan, pianist. Matthew Raimondi will then perform Frederic Rzewski's "Solo for Violinist."

After an intermission, the concert will conclude with Alden Ashforth's "Tanka Songs." There will be performed by Bethany Beardslee, soprano, and David del Tredd, pianist.

The concert is being presented by the Friends of Music of Princeton and is made possible by Roy Dickinson Welch Memorial Fund. It is open to the public free of charge.

GLEE CLUB TO SING

In Spring Program, Music performed by the Princeton University Glee Club on its spring recess tour of Puerto Rico will be sung again this Saturday at a concert in Alexander Hall.

The program, ranging from Bach to Billings, includes a special Ivy League medley and a medley of Princeton football songs. A small, informal singing group, The Prospectors, will make its first Princeton appearance with a group of songs.

Other features of the program will be the first Princeton performance of "La Compara" by Ernesto Lecuona, as arranged by Augusto Rodriguez, the conductor of the University of Puerto Rico choir, and a pair of light selections by Lester Freed, solo tenor of the Glee Club.

This concert is the only full-length program to be given in Princeton by the Club this season. Tickets, at $1.25, $1.75 and $2.50, are available at the University Store. They may also be purchased at Alexander Hall the night of the concert.

CHILDREN TO SING

At Alumni Festival, Over 500 children's voices from choirs throughout this area, will be heard in a massed choir which will sing at the Westminster Alumni Festival to be held at Princeton High School this Sunday and again next Sunday at 5:30 p.m. Miss Virginia Cheesman will direct.

About 30 similar concerts will be given throughout the season by alumni of Westminster Choir College in celebration of the College's Alumni Week. Much preparation for the festival consists of numbers from the great choral classics and contemporary favorites. The event is open to the public without charge and an offering will be taken for the benefit of the Alumni Fund of the Choir College.

Westminster Choir College, perhaps best known for its touring choir, is also known for the work of its graduates who conduct choirs in churches and schools all over the world. The College is a non-denominational school which trains young people to be Ministers of Music in churches and directors of music in secular institutions.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET

For April Program, Members of the Princeton Music Club will gather next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thomas Cook, Kingston, for a program of string quartet and vocal music. Mrs. Cook and Marta Percu will be hostesses.

MAKING FIRST VISIT: Marvin Hayes, internationally known bass-baritone, will give his first Princeton recital Sunday at 3:15 p.m. in Procter Hall.

A string quartet composed of Joseph Kovacs, Anne Ross, Helen Tass and David Weiss will play. Janice Harasany, Elva Kelsall, Fadon Shehadi and Frances Wendt will give a program of vocal music accompanied by Louise Strumsky.

PIANISTS NEEDED

For Opera Workshop, The Delaware Valley Opera Workshop in Levinston, Pa., needs pianists who are interested in performing with the group in its spring program and those who would like in audition may make arrangements by calling Mrs. George Bent at WA 1-5758.

The Workshop will present its spring program on May 21. It will consist of scenes from "The Marriage of Figaro," "Carmen," and "Die Fledermaus," and the entire "Secret of Suzanne." The program will be given in the Benjamin Franklin High School, Levinston, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Bent is musical director of the organization.

"FROM THE TERRACE." Mrs. John O'Hara (left) provides an appropriate meeting place for a group of women who are making plans for the April Annual of the Association of the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Mrs. O'Hara will be chairman of the bake sale table. Mrs. Bertha Brandon (center) of the Friendship Club, and Mrs. Bertram F. Bonner join her in discussing final arrangements. (Town Topics Photo by Alan Richards)

Cyril Franks will report on research at the Institute on "Alcohol and Personality." Following lunch, there will be a fashion show of clothes from Mayme Mead of Princeton, with Mrs. Gordon Knox as commentator.

Among the sales booths will be a bake table, (Mrs. John O'Hara, chairman); a bird bar where ornithologists may buy materials which will attract birds to a garden (Mrs. Gerald A. Bramwell, chairman); a flower mart tended by the Dogwood Club (Mrs. Douglas Smith, chairman); and hand-made articles from the Monday Club (Mrs. A. W. Gemmer and Mrs. Hazel L. Tourison, chairman).

The April Annual raises funds to buy for patients at the Institute many things which cannot be included in the state budget, such as television sets, non-institutional clothing, party food and even a swimming pool.

The following will serve as models: Mrs. C. Burrage Armour, Mrs. Alfred W. Gardner, Mrs. Robert M. King, Mrs. James E. Laughlin and Mrs. Norton L. Smith, all of Princeton; Mrs. W. J. H. Abej Jr., Pennington; Frederick R. Peterson, Hopewell; Mrs. John S. Hurd, Lawrenceville; Mrs. W. L. Shepherd, Highland Park; Paul Frisbie, Trenton; and Mrs. Joseph B. Tobish, Morrisville.

PLATONIC LOVE IS THEME

Of Lecture on Tuesday. Prof. H. J. Hunt of the University of London will speak on "George Sand, Saint-Beuve, and Balzac, or the Theme of Platonic Love" Tuesday at 8:30 in the Social Science Lounge of the Firestone Library. The Department of Romance Languages is sponsoring the lecture.

Prof. Hunt is currently touring the United States and lecturing at outstanding universities. He is one of the major scholars of 19th century French literature.

UWF LISTS SPEAKERS

For Dinner May 3. Two additional speakers for its dinner, May 3, were announced this week by Princeton Chapter, United World Federalists. They are Dr. DeWitt H. Smith of Drakes Corner Road, who will serve as master of ceremonies, and Rabbi Aaron N. Kraus of Princeton Jewish Center, who will give the invocation.

The dinner will be held at the Nassau Inn. Other speakers will include Professor Hubert N. Alyea of a College Road and Louis E. Dailey, prominent North Jersey attorney. Both will speak on behalf of the world government which United World Federalists advocates.

SCROPTIMISTS TO MEET

At Penack Inn. The Scroptimist Club of Princeton will meet this Thursday at noon at the

"Census" for Drivers

The house-to-house census is almost over, but Princeton area motorists may find themselves participating in a new traffic survey anytime between now and November. The survey, which began this week, is being conducted by the Penn-Jersey Transportation Study and will involve motorists on roads eight to 20 miles from the centers of Trenton, Philadelphia and Camden.

A series of roadside stations are being set up throughout the area and teams of interviewers, wearing badges, will flag down motorists. State Police officers will work with the interview teams.

Purpose of the survey is to determine what improvements in highways and public transportation will best serve the needs of the area. By the time the survey is over, interviewers are expected to have collected about 2,500,000 items of information from approximately 200,000 drivers of passenger cars, trucks, taxis and chartered buses.

Peacock Inn. Guest speaker will be Miss Elly Van Aellen of Linden Lane.

Miss Van Aellen, who was previously associated with Firestone Library, was instrumental in the organization of the Princeton Branch of the Association of University Women. A native of Rotterdam, Holland, she has also worked at the Library of Congress and the United Nations Library.

COFFEE HOUR PLANNED

For Pembroke Alumnae. Alumnae of Pembroke College living in the Princeton area are invited to the home of Mrs. Lincoln Ekstrom, 276 Nassau Street, at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

The formation of a northern New Jersey Pembroke Club will be discussed.

FILMS TO BE SHOWN

On Obstacles. Two half-hour films, "Labor and Delivery" and "Obstetrics," will be shown Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the Princeton Childbirth Education League. The public is invited to attend and to participate in the social hour that will follow.

The films cover two of the topics discussed in a five-part training film made at Mount Sinai Hospital, New York. Dr. David Rose who is a member of the staff of Princeton Hospital, will discuss Mount Sinai's obstetric program. He was resident physician at the New York hospital from 1950 to 1953 and a consultant attending obstetrician and gynecologist from 1953 to 1955.

Question of the Week

Question: Who's boss in your family—your mother or father? Or you? (Asked of teen-agers only).

Where Asked: Nassau Street.

Tower Hubble, 13, 178 Nassau Street, Witherspoon School: Do you mean most of the time or always? Most of the time it's my father because he's the one that tells me what to do and he gives me money when I ask for it.

Larry Ferrara, 14, 42 Jefferson Road, Princeton High School: My parents work as a team. My mother lets my father think he is the boss and, basically, he really is.

Robert Snyder, 17, 16 Fisher Avenue, PHS: My father's the boss. He's always the boss. He tells me what to do and I do it or else.

Gloria Hill, 16, 10 Adams Drive, PHS: It depends. If there is something that I really want to do, I usually can convince them to let me do it. But most of the time, it's my mother because my father doesn't fight back.

Tyrene Silvis, 12, 114 Jackson Street, Witherspoon School: My mother is boss because she doesn't say anything, but when you get him riled up he does.

Susan Thompson, 525 Mercer Road, Johnson Park School: I'm 12½, going on 13, so I'm practically a teen-ager. My father—I think.

Edward Esposito, 14, 9 Harris Road, PHS: It depends on the situation. When I buy my clothes, I'm the boss. Usually my mother is the boss. She's the one who tells us when we can go out and when we have to be back.

Susan Heiberger, 16, 100 Longview Drive, PHS: Well, it's not me. It's different all the time. I think most of the time it's Mom because she is home all the time and she's the one I ask all the time. In big decisions, it's usually my father. A lot of times, though if I put up a good argument and sob around the house, they get sick of me and say, "Oh, go ahead and do it!"

Greg Seitz, 13, Princeton Junction, West Windsor Township School: My father is and I think the father should be boss.

Nancy Devisio, 14, 85 Edman Avenue, PHS: It's sort of a round-about affair. If I want to go out, I'll ask my mother and she'll say, "Go ask your father." My father will say, "If it's all right with your mother." Then my mother will say it's O.K.

Joel High, 17, 5 Piedmont Drive, West Windsor Township, PHS: It depends. Do you call the boss the money-maker or the budget-maker? My dad is the boss except for handling the money. My mother does that and makes up the budget. Actually, it's both. In some cases my mother decides and in some cases my dad does. Usually, if it is O.K. with one, it is O.K. with the other. If they disagree, they'll talk it over and decide. There is one thing that I am boss of and that is when I go out. I can set my own time limit when to come home. They'll lower it, though, if they think it is way out of line.

Lesley Fonger, 15, 174 Guyot Avenue, PHS: My father is, I guess, because he controls my allowance.

Gary Dunlop, 15, 15 Madison Street, PHS: I'd say my father is. He is the one who has the most say in the things I do.

Ann Peck, 13, 45 Patton Avenue, Witherspoon School: It depends. Sometimes my mother is the boss and sometimes my father is and when it comes to what TV programs we watch, I am.

Dick Peskio, 14, 327 Walnut Lane, PHS: My father is. He tells me what to do.

Bill Wright, 14, 40 Murray Place, Witherspoon School: Both of them are. I have to ask both of them before I can go any place. If they are in a good mood, I can usually talk them into what I want to do. I'm the boss of my little sister.

Arthur Santowassio, 17, Princeton Junction, PHS: My father, no doubt about it. Once in awhile when my mother says I can't have the car, I might get it through my father. But if he says no, that's it. I don't get it.

Joanne Luther, 14, Princeton Junction, PHS: My mother is. I usually ask her if I can go out and I ask her for money. She'll confer with my father but I normally will ask her first. Most of the time my father goes along with my mother's decisions.

Britt McNamee, Penns Neck, West Windsor Township School: (Another 12½-year-old who considers herself 13.) My father has control over me. My mother usually sticks up for me but my father puts his foot down.

Melissa Rightmire, 16, Canal Road, Griggstown, PHS: I guess Daddy is. What he says usually goes.

Flory Procaccini, 16, 319 Witherspoon Street, PHS: My father is, all the way. And, in my opinion, that is the natural way with the father giving all the commands in the right way.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING

May 3 at Shopping Center, The Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Combined Circus will stage two shows at Princeton Shopping Center on Tuesday, May 3, under the sponsorship of Princeton Lions Club. Proceeds will go toward the civic and charitable work of the Lions Club.

The first show, a 3:30 matinee, has been scheduled especially for children, and it is hoped that charity-minded groups and clubs will buy tickets to this performance for underprivileged children. The second show will be at 8 p.m.

The circus has 150 performers, featuring Clyde Beatty in person with his trained wild animals. Mr. Beatty has added to his collection a black panther which is said to be the only panther to work in a mixed group of lions and tigers. There are 27 other acts, as well as three herds of elephants and a total of 150 wild and domestic animals.

Harold J. Frazer is chairman of the Lions Club's Circus Committee. Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased at Frazer's Market, Nassau Delicatessen, Allen's Children's Shop, Renwick's, and the Mall Camera Shop in the Princeton Shopping Center.

BIRTH LIST

Hospital No. 20 Arrivals: A total of 20 children, only four of them girls, was born in Princeton area residents in Princeton Hospital last week. Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Chen, Heathcote Road, Kingston, April 11; Mr. and Mrs. Derrold Weisel, Southfield Road, Cranbury, April 13; and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Vial, 35 Woodside Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Charles DiBisce, 104 Kennell Road, Franklin Park, both on April 15.

Parents of sons included Mr. and Mrs. W. Stanley Brown, 421-A Butler Street, April 10; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Voltmer, 25 Berwick Road, Franklin Park; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Culbertson, Mrs. Angelo DiMeglio, 174 Linden Lane; and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Hancock, 255 Nassau Street, all on April 11.

Boys were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chamberlain, 378 Alexander Street; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgenthaler, Alexander Road, Princeton Junction; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Ford, Bakers Basin Road, Lawrenceville; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Flood, 158 Valley Road, all on April 12; and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Feldman, R.D. o. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Shapiro, 136 Clover Lane, both on April 13.

Other parents of sons included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Edenfeld, Pike, Plainsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Woodbridge, Carter Road, oil on April 15; Mr. and Mrs. John Wyckoff, 72 Model Avenue, Hopewell, April 16; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, 7 Maplewood Avenue, Cranbury, April 17.

INSTALLATION PLANNED

By Bnai B'rith Women. New officers of the B'nai B'rith Women of Princeton will be installed at ceremonies next Thursday, April 28, at 8:30 p.m. at Princeton Jewish Center.

The installation program will feature a "B'nai B'rith Cantata" written and directed by Mrs. Eli Allen. Mrs. Maurice Glicksman is program chairman and Mrs.

Lyny4 Rubin will be installing officer. Mrs. Arnold Weiss is in charge of refreshments.

The new officers, all of whom will serve one-year terms, include Mrs. Harold Borkan, president; Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Alfred Bernhardt and Mrs. Wells, vice presidents; Mrs. James Semblante, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert Alexander, recording secretary, and Mrs. Benedict Kingsley, financial secretary.

Mrs. Bernard Tcherni is treasurer and Mrs. Frank Lewin is counselor. New members of the board of trustees, who also will be installed at the meeting, are Mrs. Alvin Bonin, Mrs. Samuel Cohen, Mrs. Otto Kaufman, Mrs. Simon Larch, Mrs. Jerome Schatzkin and Mrs. Harry Wathrop.

REGISTRATION SCHEDULED to Franklin Township. Parents of Franklin Township children who will enter kindergarten next September have been asked to register this Spring. To be eligible for admission, a child must be five years old not later than October 31, 1960. Parents should bring with them the child's birth certificate and doctor's certificate showing vaccination and inoculations.

Registration at the various Franklin Township schools will be held on the following dates: East Millstone School, Tuesday, April 26; Kingston School, Wednesday, April 27; Phillips School, Thursday, April 28. —Continued on Page 20

"I NEED HELP"

Family Service Agency Is Ready. "People come here to find out where to go," says Mrs. Mabel M. Reeves, director of Princeton's Family Service Agency. "They're in trouble: the youngest boy has run away from home, or the oldest boy has been caught stealing. The marriage is breaking up, or some member of the family is threatened with mental illness. 'We need help—can you give it to us?'"

Last year, over 800 people representing 210 Princeton families called on Family Service for help. At present, Mrs. Reeves and her associate, Mrs. Phoebe Wang, both full-time, professionally-trained caseworkers, have about 65 cases between them.

Some of these cases concern people who are so seriously disturbed that they require psychiatric care. Others involve nothing more (relatively speaking) than a lonely old woman who needs somebody to talk to.

"A case worker has to know what not to handle," says Mrs. Reeves. "Take a child three or four years old with profound emotional disturbance, for example. Pediatricians refer children like this to us sometimes, but if the child needs that much therapy, we send him to the Child Guidance Clinic."

Marital Problems Difficult. Most problems, however, can be handled by case work within the agency. As a rule, these are marital problems: "the toughest ones in the world to handle," according to Mrs. Reeves.

A husband will call the agency and ask for an appointment. Maybe his minister has told him about Family Service; maybe he's in one of Princeton's educational institutions and has been sent by his Guidance Counselor. In any case, he is given an appointment with a case worker and he tells her his troubles. She listens. Then in a few days, she sees the wife and listens to her side. After one or two separate conferences, she talks with them both together.

Usually, the people involved in marital problems are disturbed people," Mrs. Reeves says. "If they weren't married, they'd have some other kind of problem. Often we find it's just immaturity: both of them are acting like a couple of spoiled kids."

"Incidentally," Mrs. Reeves adds, "I use the word 'he', but usually it's the wife who comes in first, and often her husband

WE'RE HERE TO HELP: Two able case-workers are available full-time at Princeton's Family Service Agency, located in Dorchester House, 120 John Street. Mrs. Mabel M. Reeves (left) is director of the agency, but unlike most agency executives, she carries a full case load in addition to her administrative duties. Her associate is Mrs. Phoebe Wang. For an account of the work done in Princeton by Family Service, see story this page.

Camp, Milk, Clothing

One of the pleasantest duties of the Family Service Agency is the administration of the Town Topics Christmas Fund. Princeton residents contribute to this Fund at Christmas-time, but Family Service distributes the money throughout the whole year.

In the 13 years since the Fund was started, Princeton residents have contributed about $31,800. Last year, the Fund was enriched by $3,700, a record.

Family Service uses the money to buy milk for a family in sudden financial distress, to pay club dues for a young, frisky adolescent whose club activities may keep him out of serious trouble, or to buy clothing for a high-school graduate looking for her first job.

Now, with summer-time ahead, the Agency is making plans to send needy children to camp for two weeks. "Need" may mean more than "no money." A child may need desperately to get away from an unhappy family situation, if only for two weeks. And even two weeks "off the streets" may help a potential delinquent.

refuses for a time to have anything to do with us at all: 'No lady social worker is going to tell me how to live my life—you know the kind of thing. But the husband usually appears eventually, to present his side, if nothing else. After all, most disturbed marriages affect the children involved and if there is truancy, or suspension from school the father is here in no time.'

"Good Listeners." Often, a husband or wife needs someone to talk to who is an objective outsider. Mrs. Reeves will listen, then interpret to the patient what the core of his problem may be. Through this disinterested outsider (but most emphatically not "uninterested"), two people may learn to understand each other better.

"We never tell a man and woman to leave each other—they must decide that themselves," Mrs. Reeves says. "We had one couple that finally broke up, but they parted with much less bitterness than if they hadn't come here, and if they remarry, they won't make the same mistakes. We've had several couples under treatment for as long as ten months, and they are still together."

Because it is a "family" agency, Family Service gets more marriage problems than anything else, but the services provided by the agency don't stop there. "After all," says Mrs. Reeves, "you don't have to be married to have problems."

"Maybe a boy has been caught stealing at home," Mrs. Reeves explains. "His mother may go to a judge and get the boy referred to us. He's probably a disturbed kid who needs psychotherapy and we tell him where to go—but what kind of family situation started him stealing? Perhaps we can convince his mother that we can help her. If she's willing to be helped, we may find a situation where there's a step-father, a financial instability that keeps the family quarreling all the time, and so on."

Mrs. Reeves emphasizes that nobody can be forced to go to Family Service. "But a juvenile court referral is a sort of mild and gentle forcing," she smiles.

Report from THE MAYOR

Special Meeting Planned, Mayor and Council will hold a special session this Thursday, April 21, at 8:45 p.m. in Borough Hall, in order to interview each of the seven applicants for the single available alcoholic beverage license. The problem is unusual in that no member of the present governing body has ever been called upon to help decide this kind of question.

Hereafter, we have been called upon to approve or disapprove a transfer of a license from one party to another. Now a decision must be made in a different manner.

It has been decided to give each applicant a chance to present briefly the factors which he feels should weigh in his favor. Members of Council will have an opportunity to question each applicant, in turn, about the pros and cons of his specific application—including, no doubt, questions about the premises and the nature of the business and so on. Surely the members of Council will be called upon to exercise their best judgment in the presence of a difficult choice in the public interest.

Decision on Prospect Dae, Mayor and Council must also decide on a date to take action on the ordinance concerning the extension of Prospect Avenue. Last Tuesday's public hearing produced a lively discussion on both sides of this question.

Council decided to postpone final action on the ordinance because of the absence of two Councilmen. With members of the public works committee, it is hoped that an early date can be set for a decision on this matter.

Operation Alert 1960, Captain Sage and his staff, the Township control coordinator, has notified the mayors of Borough and Township that the annual nation-wide civil defense alert will take place during the period May 3, 4 and 5, 1960. Public participation will be required only on the afternoon of May 3.

Captain Sage is particularly concerned about the phases of the past disaster control exercises: siren coverage and public apathy. There is in residential areas. Some apathy is doubtless rooted in the general reaction that there is no effective defense against the devastation of all-out nuclear attack. Perhaps we need to be reminded that the preparations made by our disaster control volunteers will be helpful in meeting a wide variety of peace-time disasters and can and do strike towns without warning.

A Warm Response. A recent letter from Mrs. Lorraine LaTourette Blanding indicates that Princeton residents—several hundred of them—responded to the newspaper accounts of her father's birthday. Mr. LaTourette, former editor of The Princeton Packet, "was really thrilled" to still have the telegram (from Acting Mayor Lester and Mayor Ferman) in his shirt pocket and shows it to every new visitor.

This proves again how much our older citizens owe the knowledge that they are remembered and respected. It also proves that Princeton remains a town with a very big and a very warm heart.

Friday Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor" sessions will be held on Friday, April 22, and Friday, April 29, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal sessions.

Last Friday morning, Borough officials watched a demonstration of important housekeeping equipment as three street sweepers were put through their paces. The Borough's 14-year-old sweeper is resting rather forlornly at the garage, needing more than $2,000 worth of repairs! Another fiscal headache!

Eggactly!

Families with a lot of pink, purple, yellow and blue hard-boiled—pardon, hard-cooked—happily go around as a residue of Easter, will be happy to learn that the New Jersey Poultry Products Promotion Council (a not unbiased body) regards a "properly hard-cooked egg as one of the most gratifying, satisfying and delectably tender items for summertime menus."

The key word is "hard-cooked." Egg men shudder when people say "hard-boiled." They are so sensitive about it that they have decided to devote the month of May to eliminating the phrase from the New Jersey vocabulary and they will launch their program next Thursday in Trenton with a luncheon. Guess what's on the menu.

They also hope, during this campaign, to sell more eggs. The "Farmobile," a traveling showcase of New Jersey farm products, will tour the state during May demonstrating 29 ways to serve eggs. They blandly refer to this as "eggucation—the public," a thinly-disguised sales pitch.

Egg men say that this is the way to hard-cook an egg: "Put eggs into warm water. Then lift them with a spoon into boiling water... reduce the heat... simmer 20 minutes. Cool eggs promptly in cold water for several seconds. Prevents further cooking and makes them easy to handle."

Better keep an eye out for that Farmobile: can YOU think of 29 different ways to get rid of Easter eggs?

Thursday morning at the Military Park Hotel in Newark.

Also attending will be Mrs. Martin Schwarzschild, president elect, and Mrs. Elmer Alpert, a state director for the League. Mrs. Gottlieb and Mrs. Schwarzschild will be among the delegates going to St. Louis the following week to represent Princeton at the 24th National Convention.

FIRST STUDENT SELECTED

In 1960 for AFS Scholarship. Miss Wilhelmine Reaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Reaser of 171 Longview Drive, a student at Princeton High School, has received an American Field Scholarship for next summer in Norway. The Princeton Chapter of AFS will announce this first selection at its annual tea Sunday afternoon at 4 in the Woodrow Wilson Hall.

At the tea, a panel of AFS students will discuss experiences in the various programs. Taking part in the discussion will be three foreign students: Robert Magnacca from Argentina, Gabriella Rossetti from Italy and Erica Bauer from Switzerland. They will be joined by five Princeton students: Robert Rugg, Eleanor Hamilton, Eileen Baker, Catherine Otis and Pauline Mills, all of whom have been in foreign countries on AFS scholarships within the past year.

This week, the Princeton Committee is entertaining Miss Sujathra Sandosham, an Indian Exchange Student from Singapore. Miss Sandosham is the newest of the AFS President, Mrs. Everett P. Tomlinson of The Great Road; Dean Donald Hamilton of the Princeton Graduate School and Alfred Busselle of Lovell Lane.

REGISTRATION TUESDAY

For Township kindergartens. Registration for the four kindergartens of Princeton Township Schools will begin Tuesday, April 19, when the fifth birthday falls on or before next November 30 is eligible.

Registration will take place on Tuesday at the Valley Road School; Wednesday, Littlebrook School; Thursday, Riverside School and Friday, Johnson Park. Each day from 8:30 to 3:30. Township children may register at any Continued on Page 22

Help for the Aged. Increasingly, the aged are concerned with old people who have nobody left in the world except the social worker or the nurse.

"An elderly woman, sheltered from life, may suddenly find herself widowed, without funds. She falls and breaks a leg, and has a lonely convalescence. This presents a complex of problems: financial, emotional and practical. And even if this lonely old invalid had enough money, she might still need reassurance and understanding companionship."

Besides Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Wang and Mrs. German, the full-time secretary-bookkeeper, the staff of Family Service includes a psychiatric consultant, Dr. Helen Daniels, who gives the agency two hours a week.

She is the leader of a Psychiatric and Psychological Services Committee which meets over sandwiches and coffee once a month to discuss knotty cases, establish policy and make recommendations, such as juvenile delinquency, which may concern the whole community.

This committee includes five clinical psychologists: Mrs. Eileen Eberly, Mrs. Mary Bigelow, Maurice Phillips, Dr. Lee Miller and Mrs. Virginia Erdman. These psychologists administer whatever tests are needed, and provide psychological treatment under the supervision of Dr. Daniels. At present, five patients are receiving therapy from these specialists.

In addition, the group may include school psychologists, a private practitioner, school nurses, perhaps the guidance counselor at Princeton High School or others in the community who have a professional interest in the work of the agency.

There are no barriers at Family Service. People pay if they can. If they can't, they are accepted anyway. Most people think such an agency in terms of lower social and economic groups, but this is not wholly true.

People from all parts of town bring their troubles here: unskilled laborers and graduate students; housewives and 16-year-old boys; professional men and domestics. The only criterion is, "Do you need help and are we equipped to give it?"

It's New To Us

An overbush with a three-inch ruffle comes in raspberry, turquoise, or orange and you wear it with tapered pants in a raspberry, orange and turquoise floral eye-lash print so furry with eyelashes that it looks like plush.

For quieter hours, Bellows suggests a fitted robe of cotton, cut without sleeves and with a scoop neck, coachman style in front. Under it, you wear a wall-length sleep coat with button front and the hazy consist of a circle of straw the size of a doughnut which you place on top of your head. From it depends a cage of blocked veiling, in olive, pink black or whatever.

Miss Sally Victor Hatlets are for people who don't wear hats. The hats consist of a circle of straw the size of a doughnut which you place on top of your head. From it depends a cage of blocked veiling, in olive, pink black or whatever. Young ladies who are graduating this spring are to wear dresses at Bellows. Most of them are pastels and most are cotton, as simple and delightfully girlish as anyone could wish. One, in white, has clusters of horizontal ruffles from square neck to hem. Another, in powder blue, has insertions of open-work embroidery.

Here Comes the Crystal. Brides whose wedding guests stop at The Town Shop will find crystal and china in splendid profusion when they begin to open wedding presents. The Palmer Square shop carries crystal from Baccarat, Lalique, Stuart and Val St. Lambert and there are innumerable designs from all these houses, ranging from elaborately cut pieces to the most exquisitely simple ones.

You will certainly want to examine the nine-inch crystal candlesticks. They have stems as thin as pencils and their tops are like deep cups and saucers. Another pair, from the Belgian house of Val St. Lambert, is broadly based and sturdy, with flanges set at various angles up the five-inch column, to provide many reflecting surfaces for the candle-flame in the top. A Stuart crystal candlestick has a fine six-dot inside (decalter and tiny liqueur glasses match this one).

In china, the Town Shop offers Royal Worcester in the sage-green border of "Regency," or the blue spray of a pattern designed in 1760. Another pattern has a garland of flowers around the border; another has a twining of leaves and berries and a final one is perfectly plain with a double border of platinum.

Spode's "Fitzburgh" is a copy of old Lowestoft, in deep royal blue (or red) and white. The Italian house of Glinori sends "Perugia," which displays widely separated fruits and leaves against a white plate.

Boehm, the Trenton artist whose porcelain birds have received wide acclaim, has sent his exquisite bird sculptures to the Town Shop shelves. These are fabulous treasures, not idle purchases, and you will examine each bird carefully before you decide which one will be your investment.

The song-birds are done in natural colors (or bisque, if you prefer) and they have been posed on the native plants that would be their natural resting places. The black-capped chickadee on a holly branch is particularly appealing, and the indigo bunting particularly striking. The bride who receives one of these has a memento in the making.

FINAL PLANS MADE AT HUN

For Auxiliary Festival, Exhibits of handicrafts, oil paintings, china, etchings, miniature trains, flower arrangements and hobbies will be on display next Saturday, April 30, when the Hun School Auxiliary holds its annual Spring Festival for the benefit of the school's scholarship fund.

There will also be a demonstration by a hunting pack of beagles on the Mall, if weather permits. The Festival will be held from 1 until 4:30 when tea will be served.

Mrs. Joseph Kelsall of Penns Neck is general chairman of this year's fund-raising project. Committee chairmen are include Mrs. Myron Easton, exhibitor; Mrs. R. Johnson, tickets; Mrs. L. Rodgers, tea and food table; Mrs. M. B. Landis, handicrafts; Mrs. S. L. Greenfield, white elephant table; Mrs. D. N. Penrose, program; and Mrs. J. P. Donahue, publicity.

WILL HOLD CARD PARTY

Friday Evening. The Business and Professional Women's Club will hold a dessert card party at Educational Testing Service on Rosedale Road Friday evening at 8.

Mrs. Polly Steele is chairman of the event, given for the benefit of the club's Scholarship Fund. Tickets may be obtained at the door or from any club member.

TO BUILD NEW POST OFFICE

In Plainsboro, A new post office will be built in Plainsboro, Congressman James C. Auchincloss has announced. The building will have about 1,200 square feet and a leading platform and it will be built on the south side of the Princeton-Plainsboro Road about 135 feet east of Prospect Avenue. The site is approximately 12,000 square feet in size and will provide space for parking and the maneuvering of trucks.

According to Postmaster R. L. Soh, bidding forms, specifications and other data will be available about May 5. The Post Office Department will advertise for bids at that time.

The new building will be constructed under the Post Office Department's commercial leasing program which uses the resources and investment funds of private builders to obtain buildings.

"Making this announcement pleases me greatly," Congressman Auchincloss said. "The new Post Office will provide the citizens of Plainsboro with the latest in modern postal improvements, assuring patrons more convenient mail service as well as providing a much better place to work for our dedicated postal employees."

IT'S TERMITE TIME!

"Flying Ants" are a sign termite may be attacking your home. Call today for a free inspection by a University Graduate Entomologist to determine if any damage is being done and if protective treatment is necessary. We use wood pressure treating methods which protect damaged wood from any further dry rot or fungus. Our methods are based on sound engineering and wood preserving principles and far that reason treatments given by us are capable of giving more permanent protection. The work is thorough, effective and guaranteed for five years. Our charge for complete protection is no more than some others charge for partial treatments. Please call collect if out-of-town.

Estimates are cheerfully given.

The value of nearly every sole proprietorship rests on the drive and ability of the man who owns it. When he dies a tragic sequence of events can lead to a forced sale of the business and a severe financial loss to the heirs. There is no ideal solution to the problem which calls for Business Life Insurance plus the services of a skilled Life Underwriter.

COACH ROOM OPENS

At Nassau Inn. Approximately 500 persons attended the weekend "Open House" at the new Coach Room of the Nassau Inn on Saturday and Sunday. The new dining room, which may be reached directly from the street level of Palmer Square West, augments the restaurant facilities at the Inn by 65 places. Four more "deuces"—tables for two—will shortly increase the capacity to 93.

Chandler Cutlip Associates of New York, the decorating firm responsible for the new restaurant, has combined traditional materials like worn pink brick, dark leather and pewter with the simplicity of modern design to achieve a room which is "modern with warmth," as one observer remarked.

The Coach Room will be open for breakfast daily from 7 to 11 a.m. From 11 a.m. until midnight, the menu will be a carte, with such specialties as stews inherited from the Oyster Bar (now closed), filet mignon, corned beef hash, soups, sandwiches and soda fountain delights.

Future plans call for a two-item menu (2:30 to 5) and a late evening menu with waffles and special hot-cakes.

NILL'S BAKERY TO MOVE

To 63 Palmer Square. Nill's Bakery will move on May 2 from 100 Nassau Street, where it has been located for the last 18 years, to 63 Palmer Square West, the current address of the Hitching Post. W. F. Crandall, president of the corporation, took over the bakery in 1933 from the founder's son, Emil Nill.

Mr. and Mrs. Crandall, who live at 7 Hamilton Avenue, operate the business with 20 employees, all of whom are bakers. All actual baking will be done at the Hightstown plant where there is also a retail store. Cakes are now baked in Princeton, but the new location does not have space for this operation.

Only Second Move. Charles Nill, a native of Germany, founded the store in 1905 after working for several years with Dohm's Bakery. The shop's address was 20 Witherspoon Street for 40 years. Mr. Nill died in 1916 and his son ran the business until 1953.

Nill's serves the University dining halls and eating club, as well as many hotels and institutions in the area. No tenant has been named for the 100 Nassau space. Mrs. William H. Lyons is the owner of the property, and also lives there.

Walter Servis, proprietor of the Prep Shop and Hitching Post will amalgamate his stock at the Prep Shop, 68 Palmer Square West. He has opened a separate downstairs department for older teenage sizes.

COOK HONORED

For 30 Years' Work. Edmund D. Cook, president of Edmund Cook & Company, realtors, was cited at the International Appraisal Conference celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Society of Residential Appraisers. Mr. Cook was honored for his 30 years of work as a real estate appraiser and for his educational contributions to professional journals and his lectures at various colleges on the art of appraising.

A senior member of the Society of Residential Appraisers, Mr. Cook was founder and has been president of the Mercer County chapter. He is also a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers and has served as president of the New Jersey chapter and of the American Society of Appraisers.

ZARKER APPOINTED

To Rutgers Faculty. Harold E. Zarker, vice-president in charge of the Banking Division, Princeton Bank and Trust Company, has been appointed to the faculty of the newly-created Advanced Industry School of Banking being offered by Rutgers University.

Mr. Zarker has been associated with the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers for 16 years, the last four as chairman of the Commercial Banking IV department. Currently, he is chairman of a faculty group specializing in personal relations whose responsibility is to grade theses submitted on that and affiliated subjects.

CONTRACT TO BOWERS

For Radio-TV Building. Fulmer and Bowers, Princeton architects, are the designers of a four-story radio and television building that will be erected in Hartford, Conn., by Lewis C. Bowers and Sons of Princeton.

The two to three million dollar building program, planned for the Travelers Insurance Company, calls for the construction of a four-story building that will include two television studios, four radio stations and an executive penthouse. A novel method of construction will be used in all four floors and the roof will be of reinforced concrete, cast on top of each other on the ground and raised in place by hydraulic lifting devices.

SPORTS In Princeton

DOUBLEHEADER SATURDAY
In Baseball and Lacrosse. A post-war tradition that has been a part of the University Field Testing but may not be continued after that athletic area gives way this summer to the Engineering Quadrangle is scheduled for 1 o'clock on Saturday.

Princeton's unpredictable baseball team will play its home opener in Eastern League action, with Dartmouth furnishing the opposition. At 3:30, Army's powerful lacrosse team will face the Tiger ten, giving spectators a good five hours of action. Next spring, the hall players will use the new diamond east of Palmer Stadium; whether the lacrosse games will be played on Poe Field, as in earlier years, or on a field as yet unconstructed near the new baseball diamond, has not yet been determined.

As usual when they come here in April, the Indians are handicapped by inability to play steadily during the early part of the spring. They completed an extensive southern trip on March 29 and did not play again until the day of this week, when they went "south" once more to meet Holy-Cross at Worcester.

The Green lakes on Navy at Annapolis Friday before moving on to Princeton the following day. The middies, bolstered by a standout pitching staff, are a heavy favorite to repeat as league champions.

Tiger Ten Looks Ahead. Next Wednesday should be a pleasant afternoon for the Princeton lacrosse team, marking as it will start of the Tigers' competition in the Ivy League. Until now, the Orange and Black has been preparing for defense of its title in the usual tough fashion; playing teams that, in most years, are a good deal more than it can handle.

Navy was the most recent outfit to give the Tigers a going-over, winning, 16 to 5, Saturday at Annapolis. Army, a one-sided victor over a Rutgers outfit which is about on a par with Princeton, is figured to triumph here but the Tigers will improve as each week passes.

FIRST CREW RACE

Saturday at Annapolis. Its eyes hopefully set on the Olympic trials that will be held early in the summer, the Princeton heavyweight crew will open its 1960 season Saturday on Maryland's Severn River. Navy is the opponent and is favored to prevail — the Tigers have not won a crew race since they topped the middies to open the 1958 season.

Three sophomores are among the eight oarsmen that Dutch Schoch will send to the starting line — one of them, Dale LeCount, has come along fast enough to win the stroke seat. The jayvee and freshmen shells will also compete against their Navy counterparts over the mile and three-quarter course. Hopes are that the Princeton Class of 1963 may have better than average material.

FINISHING FIRST DECADE: Ferrie Thomsen, who will direct Tiger lacrosse team against Army here Saturday, is completing his tenth season at Princeton.

The Severn will also be the scene of three 150-lb. races among Princeton and Navy crews. Varsity jayvee and freshman eights will compete in each instance.

The lightweights opened the Princeton rowing season successfully last week on New York's Harlem River. Columbia was the victim in each instance as the Princetonians won all three races handily.

BACK TO EARTH

Tiger Nine Shellacked. 15-2. After bowling over five opponents in somewhat unexpected fashion, Princeton's baseball team lost its grip on the national pastime Saturday, absorbing a 15-2 drubbing from a previously winless (0-3) Seton Hall nine. On "one of those days," the Tigers did just about everything wrong.

Committing five errors in the first four innings (all of them on relatively simple plays), they handicapped starter Dave Douglas with six unearned runs of the seven charged to him.

Drawing ten walks and adding seven hits, they managed to hold their run output to two by looking at third strikes and otherwise failing to hit with the bases steadily loaded. Sixteen Tiger runners — Continued on Page 30 were stranded during the course of the loosely-played, three-hour affair.

Before the Dartmouth game, Manhattan will be here this Thursday afternoon at 4, while the Villanova contest that was rained out on April 5 has been rescheduled for next Tuesday.

A New England trip is on tap for the following weekend as the Tigers take off to play Brown at Providence and Harvard at Cambridge. For the result of the Tuesday game this week against Columbia, see page 32.

OTHER SPORTS

Track Team Faces Rutgers. Its southern trip cancelled by snow that hung on in Virginia in late March, the track team will open its season Saturday at 2 in Palmer Stadium against Rutgers. Doomed to mediocrity until the proposed field house becomes a reality, the Tigers are good enough to trim the Scarlet and Columbia, their first two opponents, without trouble but thereafter will be out of their depth against such perennial powers as Harvard, Yale and Cornell.

The tennis team whitewashed Cuzco, 9-0, but had to rally to win all three doubles matches against Williams. John Conroy's team trailed, 4-2, after the six singles had been decided Saturday but swept the final three matches to triumph, 5-4. Columbia, a touring Notre Dame team, and Army are all on this week's schedule at Princeton, with the latter two matches set for Friday and Saturday.

Victories over Columbia and Lehigh fell to the golfers' credit last week, both by one-sided margins. A triangular match Friday at Rumford, N.J., against Brown and Harvard is next on the schedule for Harry Kinnell's linksmen.

AWARD NIGHT LISTED

By Patrolmen's Association. The Patrolman's Benevolent Association, Local 130, has announced that Sunday will be Award Night for its Youth Program. The event will take place at 4:30 at Princeton Inn.

A dinner at the Inn will mark the end of the year's events and the launching of a fund-raising program to run throughout May for the 1960 season. Once again the Association will sponsor a Midget League Baseball team with tryouts set for May 7 and 8 from 9 to 12. The patrolmen also offer tennis, archery and rifle shooting activities for boys and girls here.

MOVE UP TO 1960's OILHEAT

POCKETBOOK

1960's OILHEAT keeps money in your pocket. ■ Your monthly fuel bills are lower — far lower — than they'd be with any other fully automatic fuel. And this is especially true in a state like New Jersey where winters are long and hard. ■ But substantial savings are not the only reason so many thoughtful people insist on OILHEAT. They know that OILHEAT is clean . . .

comfortable . . . convenient and safe. They know that OILHEAT is the mark of a modern house . . . a house that has more dollar value on the market today and in the future. ■ 1950's research has made 1960's OILHEAT truly THE fuel of the Sixties. Be sure to insist on 1960's OILHEAT . . . whether you're converting, buying, or building. It's an investment.

QUESTION: No doubt you've heard of Hartford's new family and individual hospital policy. What do you think of it?

ANSWER: CHARLES CHITTERLY, Sports Car Dealer.
The new Hartford Hospital Policy is a neat package of real pay-power. Take my Hartford Policy, for example. I've chosen a plan that pays $10 a day for hospital room and board, $300 for miscellaneous hospital expenses, and a $500 surgical schedule. Covers my whole family, including six kids—and there's no extra charge for more than 3 youngsters. WOMEN'S GOLF PLAYED Opening Day Thursday. Six Princeton area residents are members of the Garden State Women's Golf Association which will hold its opening day tournament this Thursday at the Baltusrol Club at Springfield. Mrs. James J. Whelan of Princeton is president of the association, now in its seventh year, and will defend the title she won here last summer during the week of July 15.

The association's annual championship will be held this summer over the Greenbrook Country Club course at North Caldwell. In August, a new event known as the Better Ball of Partners Tournament will be played here at Springfield.

In addition to Mrs. Whelan, Mrs. Robert Shaw of Princeton serves the association in an executive capacity as a member of the nominating committee. Others who belong from Springfield are Mrs. Hans Bauer, Mrs. Robert Cullen, Mrs. Donald Strachan and Mrs. James Wargo.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL SET

Play Starts in May. Two more teams are being sought to enter the Princeton Women's Softball League for the 1960 season. The schedule will begin late next month, with games being held Monday evenings during the twilight hours.

Young women interested in playing on one of the teams already formed, or those interested in entering teams already in existence are invited to obtain further information from the league. Calls after 5 p.m. should be made to Walnut 4-3644 or Juniper 6-3860.

BOWLING NOTES

Shelton Leads "A" Loop. Shelton Motors moved back into first place in the "A" League for the only major change in Princeton bowling action last week. The Rookies (58) were three points behind, with Farr Hardware in third place with 50 points. Prince Laundry (44) continued to lead the "B" loop, but Shelton Motors was only two points behind and Walker Gordon was third with 40 points.

Physics (65) maintained a three-point margin over Machine Development in the Faculty League; Tiger Garage (48) led Wengryn Construction by four games in the Industrial loop, with Nassau Service (34) in third spot; and Tiger Bus held a four-point edge over Nassau Del (75) in the Women's League. The Mixed and Women's Industrial leagues were cancelled because of the holidays.

High individual games of the week included Bill Kiefer, 244; Frank Delness, 214; and Bill Bathie, 212, in the "A" loop; and Fred Proaccini, 231; Howard McWhorter, 228; Bill Bathie, 223; Rudy Ehart, 219; Joe Balino, Hal Frazee and Bob Quick, 206 each; George Leffell, 206; Bill Murphy and Don Snyder, 202 each; Vince Picone, 201; and Bill Penelli, 200, in the "B" League.

To All God Lovers.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

The Sanctuary for Homeless Dogs through its staff, which is myself) comes asking. For it is still a matter of food (of any sort): old blankets, towels or pieces of cloth. There are 50 dogs here now.

I am sorry that I did not get letters to all who helped us last year, and I should like to thank you now for your friendly charity which so enabled and cheered us when tribulations came to this ridge. It is with a warm sense of gratitude and providence I remember and I wish for you, in the year ahead, grace and benefit, as you have given.

(Mrs.) LOUISE WOOD

The Sanctuary,

Route 2, Box 264,

Martinsville, Indiana.

Thoughts on Survival.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Your Joint Princeton Disaster Control Council is deeply concerned with the apparent ability to the problem of disaster as evidenced by many people — and newspapers — throughout the nation.

Frequent comments are to the effect that it would be useless to attempt to save ourselves should we be struck by a bomb or missile. Survival is one of the oldest problems faced by mankind, and yet the world has overcome many serious catastrophes.

You, yourself (I am speaking to the majority of Americans) are making disaster plans: you have life insurance, you have fire insurance, etc. You are, in these cases, thinking mainly of yourselves.

In disaster planning as urged by the federal, state and local governments, the purpose is not only to indicate to you the ways and means to protect yourselves as individuals but to protect the community and state in which you live. If we lose property in a disaster, it is not possible to rebuild unless we have people to do it, so your safety is of the utmost importance.

We also hear that the frequent exercises and drills conducted throughout the nation and state are unnecessary and meaningless. They are — if you do not acquaint yourselves with the signals calling your attention to pending or possible disaster, and if these signals are disregarded or ignored.

They are — if you do not comply with the instructions to seek shelter and if these shelters are not stocked with food and water. These exercises are a reminder to you of first principles in any disaster. If there were 100 per cent cooperation from the public, it would not be necessary to repeat them so often.

We also hear that providing shelters is expensive. It can be as expensive as you wish to make it, but considerable protection is afforded you in your present home or building if you go inside and remain there until advised that it is safe to venture outside. Your radio (640-1240) will advise you when it is safe.

Seek the lowest part of the building (basement preferably). Don't be curious as to what is going on outside — you may be exposing yourselves to danger from radio-active dust.

The shelters in question are not the bomb-proof type; they are for use against fall-out. They may be used for other purposes — a den, a play room or extra bed room. Princeton is not in itself a target area for a missile. We are, however, near enough to such areas that we must consider the use of fall-out protection.

Shelters will give you an excellent chance of survival. Every hour that passes after a bomb explosion reduces the life of the radioactive material to a point that exposure, though possibly harmful, will not be dangerously so.

The foregoing type disaster is what many consider to be the sole purpose of your Disaster Control organization. This is not true.

Your Disaster Control organization is trying to prepare the community to cope with any disaster situation, whether it be a hurricane, fire, explosion, flood, windstorm, snowstorm, etc. These can occur at any time.

We are familiar with them in this country. The effects are not too different from disaster caused by enemy action — loss of life, loss of property, sick and injured, disruption of utilities, disruption of industry. If we concentrate on knowing how to handle ourselves in these situations we can act more intelligently if ever called upon to face man-made disasters. We have only to add to our knowledge those things necessary for survival if faced with a bomb situation.

Think of the steps to be taken for survival as insurance, the protection of your family and property.

A nation-wide ALERT will be held on May 3, 4 and 5. Public participation will be required only on the afternoon of May 2. The remainder of the time will be utilized in the training of federal, state and local Disaster Control Personnel. The few minutes required for the public participation when these exercises are held seems a small amount of time to require your attention and should be weighed with the advantages gained if you give your complete understanding and cooperation to them. We all hope that it will not be necessary to put them into effect, but it is better to know now what to do, and not after the fact.

GEORGE E. SAGE
Chairman,
Joint Princeton Disaster
Control Council

NO-HITTER FOR LACKEY
Against Trenton Catholic. Before the 1960 baseball season began, Princeton High School coach Harry Zoll told TOWN TOPICS that "in Jack Lackey, we have as good a high school pitcher as there is in New Jersey." This week Lackey supported the claim in full with a seven-inning no-hitter against Trenton Catholic, generally one of the top teams in this section of the state.

The Little Tigers won their opener, played Tuesday at Trenton's Westfield, by a 3-1 margin. In addition to his mound masterpieces, Lackey collected two of his team's five hits and one of the runs.

A touch of wildness cost Lackey a shutout. The losers pushed a runner around in their half of the fourth on a two-out walk, a steal, passed ball and a wild pitch. Since Lackey had driven Ray Cranshaw from second with a line hit to left field in the top half of the round, matters then stood even up.

A pair of errors on the same play gave the Blue and White the tie-breaking run in the fifth. Rick Hurford was safe on the shortstop's boot of his grounder and Archie Freeman bunted. The third baseman Henry Wild passed first and when Hurford kept on running, the first baseman uncocked a wild heave trying to get him at the plate.

Lackey doubled to right in the sixth and scored on Jack Hawkins' sharp single over second for an insurance marker. The PHIS pitcher walked four but fanned seven and allowed only seven balls to be hit out of the infield.

PHIS will face Trenton High at home Thursday afternoon. Long Branch is next Friday's opponent, on the shore team's diamond.

TIGERS LOSE GIVE-AWAY

After Five-Run East Columbia did all it could in the first inning at New York's Baker Field Tuesday to hand Princeton an Eastern League baseball game chipping in with three errors that helped the Tigers score five runs. Thereafter, however, the Grange and Black failed to follow up its advantage, eventually allowing the home forces to retire with a 6-5 triumph.

Wally Phillips, reliable in his earlier efforts this season, started on the mound for the Tigers but saw his margin whittled to 3-3 by the end of the fifth. A Trenton homer off his successor, Dave Douglas, tied the score in the next round and the Linns pushed across a tally in the seventh to earn the decision.

Once again, it was a combination of numerous faults that cost the victory. The pitching wobbled, the total of five hits revealed continued failure to hit in the clutch and three misplays also proved costly.

BOOKS, BOOKS, BOOKS: The Rev. Michael Muni is a bibliophile, and the basement of his Grever Avenue home holds over 3,500 volumes on religion, theology, psychology, psychiatry and related subjects. The pastor holds three of his favorite rare volumes: Baxter's "Call to the Unconverted to Turn and Live," published in 1787; Isaac Watts' sermons, collected in 1811, and a collection of bound pamphlets from the library of a mid-nineteenth century Episcopalian clergyman.

News Of The CHURCHES

KNOW YOUR PASTOR (20th in a Series)

Meet Mr. Muni. "Preaching Christ and trying to get people's lives to conform to His teaching and example — that's what means most to me in my ministry." The Rev. Michael Muni of the Assembly of God church finds his fullest expression in teaching the Gospel and he has followed this way of life since he was about 18 years old.

His mother was a Catholic, but she was converted to the Pentecostal faith when Michael was 15 and the example of her life and her beliefs influenced him strongly. He attended services in the Pentecostal church and found that they satisfied his needs.

"I became more peaceful and contented in my outlook on the present life," he recalls, "and gained a more satisfying view of the life to come. This faith had done so much for me, that I wanted to show others what it could do for them so I decided on the ministry."

At this time, Michael Muni was living in Trenton, where he was born. He joined the Trenton Fire Department and began to study for the ministry by correspondence from Oxford Theological Seminary in Texas. After receiving his Bachelor of Theology degree from Oxford, he became assistant pastor of the Christian Apostolic Church in Trenton, the church he had belonged to all during his years of ministerial study.

A Princeton Start. The Assemblies of God base their belief on the occurrences related in the second chapter of Acts, when the disciples, under the power of the Holy Spirit began to speak in "tongues," that is, in forms of speech quite alien to their native language.

Princeton's Assembly of God church began in 1948 with a "Cottage Meeting," consisting of three families who met in each other's homes under Mr. Muni's guidance. After a time, the "Meeting" began to gather in a room in what is now the Benson Building. Then Witherspoon Presbyterian Church offered the group a home and finally, in August of last year, the Assembly of God moved into its own brick church on the corner of North Harrison and Cleverly.

Sixty members now comprise the congregation. In addition to regular Sunday services, there is a special service on Friday night in Italian and a Bible class on Wednesday night. One of the Sunday school classes is an adult class conducted in Italian by Mrs. Mabel Symon teaches the adult Sunday school class, and Miss Jenny Tolato teaches the Young People.

"We're now a self-supporting church," Mr. Muni says. "We had the most wonderful response from the Princeton community when we conducted our building fund drive in 1964. So many people helped us, even though they didn't belong to our church."

ference opening May 4.

A baked ham supper will be served Saturday, April 30, from 5 to 7 p.m. at Kingston Neighborhood Church. Cost will be $2 for adults, $1 for children under 12.

Reservations are now being accepted for a trip to Montreal, Canada, which is being sponsored by Deacon Moses Gallop of Morning Star Church of God in Christ. The trip will be held from May 27 to 30 and total cost, including transportation, lodging and tour, will be $35 each. Reservations should be made with Deacon Gallop, 197 Witherspoon Street or Miss Geraldine Stringfield, 174 Brimley Avenue, both Princeton, or Miss Louise Gamble, 114 Chestnut Street, Trenton.

Obituaries

C. Eldem Jaynes, 65, of the Pennington-Hopewell Road, Hopewell, died April 18 in Princeton Hospital. Engineer for Hopewell Borough and Township, he was a veteran of World War I, and a member of Hopewell Post 330, American Legion; Hopewell Lodge 155, P.E.M.; Scottish Rite and Crescent Temple of Trenton; and the Mercer County League of Municipalities.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rowen Kunkle Jaynes; a daughter, Mrs. John Hobson of Titumville; his mother, Mrs. William M. Jaynes of Washington Court House, Ohio; two brothers, Lawrence C. Jaynes of Washington, D.C., and Luther L. Jaynes of Wheeling, W. Va.; and a grandchild.

The funeral will be held this Thursday at 11 at 21 North Main Street, Pennington, with the Rev. John H. Ginter of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Linda B. Lang, 63, a former resident of Van Dyke Road, Hopewell, died April 17. The widow of John C. Lang Sr., she was born in Bridgeport, Conn. Her survivors include a son, John C. Lang Jr. of Allentown; a brother, George Walter of Bridgeport; and two grandchildren.

The Rev. Curtis L. Hoffman of the Hopewell Baptist Church officiated at the funeral, held in Hopewell. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret E. Hammer Spurdle, 81, of Waretown, died April 15 in Mercer Hospital. The wife of Francis O. Spurdle, she is also survived by three sons, Alfred H. Spurdle of Griggstown, Harry H. Spurdle of Miami, Fla., and Montague O. Spurdle of Pennington.

The funeral was held in Pennington, with the Rev. James W. Marshall, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Helen W. Sterling, 35, of Prospect Street, Plainsboro, died April 17 in Princeton Hospital. The wife of Elmer S. Sterling, she had been a school teacher in Plainsboro, Penn Neck and Hamilton Township. She was a native of New York City, and a graduate of Trenton State College. She had lived in Plainsboro for many years.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Victoria Sterling; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wasilewski; and a brother, Henry Wasilewski, all of Plainsboro. The Rev. Robert Blackwell of the Plainsboro Presbyterian Church officiated at the funeral, held in Cranbury. Burial was in Brainerd Cemetery.

in real estate, I may be in a better position to give authoritative advice on values in the Princeton area than many out-of-town brokers who have set up branch offices in Princeton in the last few years, many of whom still live in Trenton and New Brunswick, and than Princeton brokers primarily concerned with the insurance or building business. Less than half of the real estate brokers in Princeton own their buildings. Many own no property in Princeton, but they all are experts in advising you how to make the biggest investment of your life.

"Building Your Own Home?"

The Princeton Manor Construction Co. will build from your ideas, your architect's plans, or from over 200 designs in our files — on your lot or our land. Consult our list of building sites in the Princeton area. You may use your lot as all or part of the down payment on your new home. Locally owned and managed, the Princeton Manor Construction Co. is currently building twenty to twenty-five quality homes a year. A few of our extra services are unusually favorable financing and free consultation with an interior decorator.

Visit our display Home open every day except Wednesday from noon 'til dusk

From the center of Princeton go east on Nassau St. for 1 mile, turn left on Snowden Lane to Franklin Ave., left 1 block and right on Grover Ave. to 136 Randall Rd. and Display Home.

Now Princeton has the price as well as the prestige!

You, too, may feel that Princeton has everything... is, in fact, New Jersey's most rewarding place to live. Where else such uncluttered space. Where else such beautifully cared for streets. Where else... another like Princeton's university. Where are the homes finer. And now it is all yours at a refreshing price. Here's honest Princeton luxury that begins with a plot that's well over a half acre. Beautiful exteriors of cedar shakes and brick. Breathtaking 24 x 21 recreation room. Dignified homes spacious in every aspect. Even an oversized 25-foot garage is included. The location—within 5 minutes of the Princeton station—is ideally convenient. Look all over... you won't find other homes of this quality and space at the price. Look all around Princeton... you won't find another new home that doesn't cost thousands more. Look and you'll want to live in Princeton Colonial Park!

The Washington 2-Story Colonial only $19,990—Four cross-ventilated bedrooms 23'2" x 13'5" living room • large entrance foyer and center hall • eat-in kitchen with built-in appliances • family room adjoining kitchen • separate dining room • laundry room • 25-foot garage • 200 x 125 land completely landscaped (front, sides and back) • Full bath upstairs, hall bath downstairs.
